ABOUT ME

I am a young Developer graduated in DAMv, supplementing with additional training in a Bootcamp in Mobile Application Development.

I consider myself a person who has always liked to explore and investigate everything around her, and it is thanks to this that programming motivated me from day one.
My goal is to keep growing and improving to contribute to innovative and ambitious projects. I'm willing to take on new challenges and I have a lot of desire to add value to the sector.

So far I have worked with C#, Kotlin and Swift and I have developed several personal and academic projects. One of the most outstanding projects I've done is ITB Infected, where I developed a horror video game set in an institute.
